Hi Laura,

Due to our strict security policies, we are unable to discuss account specific information. As a result, we are not certain how helpful we would be.

It is also important to note that upon receiving Facebook's trademark complaint, as a Service Provider any failure to respond accordingly exposes the Service Provider to civil liability for contributory trademark infringement.

With that said, Susan Kawaguchi (the domain name manager at Facebook) rescinded the complaint, pursuant to our policies we re-instated access to the domain Facebooksappeconomy.com (Facebooksappeconomy.com was never disabled).

Due to both domains being active, we believe this issue is resolved and we are no longer party to this matter.

We sent more detailed information to our customer and we suggest reaching out to them for further information.

Thanks,

Greetings,

I represent Facebook as outside counsel in the case pending in ND Cal in which Six4Three recently added Media Temple as a defendant and filed a TRO motion (Case No. 16-cv-6716).

Are you or your outside counsel available for a quick call before Tuesday? I can make myself available at any point today, over the weekend, or on Monday.

Thanks,

Laura Miller
